DEFEAT OF 'BOB' A BLOW TO PROGRESS

Senator Bristow in Appleton Speech Says it would Be Big Calamity

A BADGER RESPONSIBILITY

Kansas Senator Says Wisconsin Is Pioneer in Progressive Movement of Nation

APPLETON, Wis., Aug. 10.—"If Wisconsin should fail to return Senator La Follette to the United States senate it would strike the most severe blow which the progressive movement in this country could receive at this time," said Senator Bristow in his speech in behalf of Senator La Follette in this city.

The speech of the Kansas senator followed the lines of that which he made at Oshkosh. He discussed the tariff in detail and laid particular stress upon the cotton schedule. Speaking upon this phase of the bill, he said:

"The maintenance of the exorbitant rates of the woolen schedule, which no man in public life has had the hardihood to defend, and the advance in the placing on the markets of this country last year over $90,000,000 of additional stocks of woolen and cotton manufacturing enterprises, $64,000,000 of which was old unsold stock and $26,000,000 of new issues. This stock the owners doubtless sought to float because they believed the increase in the duties of fabrics would enable them to reap larger profits from the products of their mills. But the enormous burden placed upon these industrial enterprises is probably more than they can bear. Many of the New England cotton mills today are staggering under the load of this excessive capitalization and it is only a question of time until the collapse will come, because, as Senator Doliver aptly said, 'they have not capitalized property but the statutes of the United States.' When the collapse comes and an industrial panic is precipitated, they may shake the industrial stability of the nation."

No Excuses Offered.

"In the discussion in the house and senate there was not a single excuse offered for the increase of duties made in the cotton schedule. The cotton manufacturers came before the committee of ways and means of the house and said that there was no need to increase the duty upon their fabrics. All they asked was to be let alone. When the bill came to the senate it was immediately reported out of the finance committee with the complete new schedule of duties which was prepared in the interests of certain New England mills, it being contended by the finance committee that there was no increase in the duties. Senator La Follette, in the brilliant attack which he made on this schedule as reported by the finance committee took up every item included in the schedule, stated the duty provided in the Dingley law, and showed from computations made by experts that the duties were raised on all of the cotton goods which enter into the ordinary daily consumption."

"Under the domination of Cannon in the house and Aldrich in the senate this outrageous and indefensible increase was put through and this schedule was fixed, not to contribute to the welfare of the American people, but to fill the pockets of greedy speculators. It was in vain that

HAMON WANTS TO SHOW UP CREAGER

Man Accused of Bribery by Gore Asks that Congressman Be Called Upon to Explain

CREAGER DENIES INSINUATION

Admits He Tried to Borrow $4,000 on $10,000 Real Estate Property of McMurray

M'ALESTER, Okla., Aug. 10.—That J. F. McMurray was to have given B. Latham of McAlester, former United States commissioner, and attorney, $10,000 if the McMurray contracts were proved, was the testimony given before the Gore investigating committee here this afternoon.

Latham himself testified to this saying that McMurray told him he would give him this amount if the contracts went through. Latham said he was not interested in the contracts and the money was to have been a present for assistance he had given McMurray in political ways.

M'ALESTER, Aug. 10.—Jacob L. Hamon, who Senator Gore accuses of offering him a $50,000 bribe in connection with the McMurray Indian land contracts on the stand before the investigating committee testified that Congressman Creager of Oklahoma made what he considered a direct request of J. F. McMurray for $1,000. Creager has testified that Hamon "improperly approached" him.

Hamon requested that Creager be called and asked as to whether he did not solicit large loans from McMurray. He claims two witnesses will testify that Creager took such action.

Hamon told that he was in Creager's office in Washington on June 25 when luncheon was suggested. McMurray appeared when luncheon was almost over and Creager suggested to McMurray that he needed $1,000 badly in his campaign. Afterward Hamon said he (Hamon) asked McMurray why he did not let Creager have the $1,000 saying: "You've got lots of money."

"I can't afford to give money to legislators when I am here interested in legislation," Hamon testified McMurray replied.

On cross examination Hamon said he took the conversation between McMurray and Creager as a direct request upon the part of the congressman for McMurray to let him have $1,000, and declared further that Creager told McMurray he had introduced a McMurray bill in congress.

Hamon declared he was offering this testimony to affect Creager's credit as a witness when he called for cross examination.

Hamon said the $1,000 suggestion was a surprise to him.

Want Loan on Property
Creager admitted meeting McMurray but denied asking for money. Creager was called to the stand as Hamon requested and while admitting that he met McMurray at the luncheon mentioned, said he wanted to keep Douglas from fighting him.

"It was a political session," said Creager, "and I did not directly or indirectly ask McMurray for money at that time."

"Last November I discussed a real estate loan with him but McMurray said if he loaned me the money, secured by a mortgage on my property, it would be necessary to make the mortgage a matter of record and there might be comment."

At that time, Creager said, he did not know the McMurray contracts were coming up. He was seeking a loan of $4,000 on property valued at $10,000, he said, and later sought the loan from E. C. Million, a McAlester banker.

Objects to Insinuations
Hamon started to cross examine Creager and said:

"Don't you know that Million and McMurray are close friends?"

Creager replied that he did not and objected to the committee saying he was willing to answer proper questions but objected to insinuations.

Chairman Burke thought Creager was able to take care of himself and Hamon asked:

"Did you not say to Congressman Ferris after the Gore charges had been made that Gore was an old fool and a old senator?"

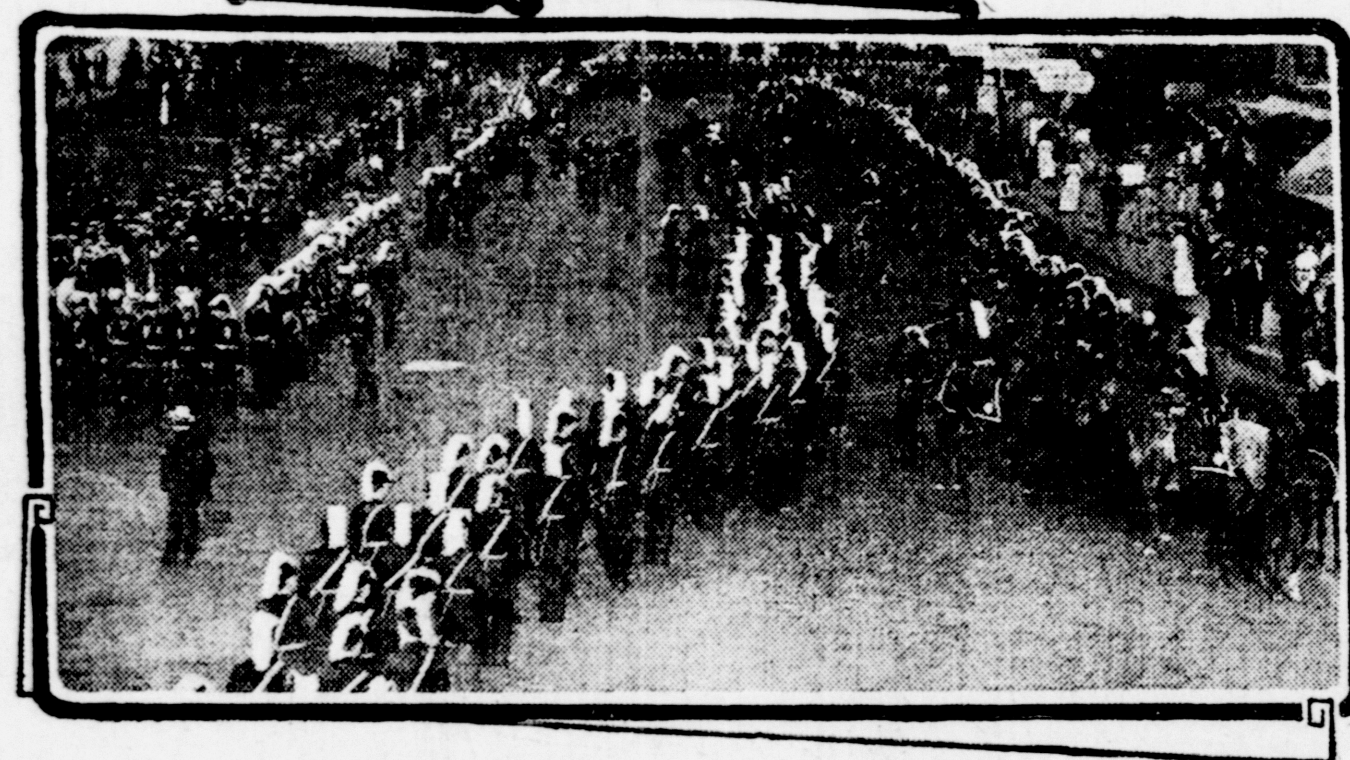

"I did not," said Creager.

"Then is it not true," continued Hamon, "that you and Senator Gore had an arrangement whereby Gore was to support you for congress and you were to testify here as you have done?"

Addressing Chairman Burke, Creager said he did not "make political deals with democrats."

BACK FROM DEATH SLAYER CONFESSES

Portage, Wis., Farmer, Resuscitated After Effort to Suicide, Tells of McMahon Murder

PORTAGE, Wis., Aug. 10.—The sensational sequel to the recent murder of County Highway Commissioner Timothy McMahon, who was shot and killed from ambush came last night when the authorities seeking Edward Lannon, wanted as a witness, found him hanging and apparently dead in his barn. There had been suspicion of Lannon, a farmer aged 40 years, because of his quarrel with McMahon, who refused to let his daughter marry Lannon. Lannon appeared at the first inquest into McMahon's death, and after the authorities had looked over the transcript of the testimony they ordered Lannon to appear again Monday.

He failed to do so, sending a boy who said he was too busy to appear. Then Tuesday night the sheriff went after Lannon who, it appears, when he saw the officer coming, hurried to his barn and hung himself.

It was only after an hour of work that the apparently lifeless body was resuscitated and then, the authorities say, in the condition in which he was after being brought back from death, Lannon made a complete confession.

TAFT PLAYS GOLF WITH FINANCIERS

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 10.—President Taft is keeping closely in touch with the industrial and financial situation as well as the political outlook.

His favorite golfing partner at Myopia, where he spends two or three hours every day, are Judge W. H. Moore, of New York; Henry Clay Frick, the steel and iron man, who as does Judge Moore, summers at Pride's Crossing, as does John Hays Hammond, the mining expert, who is said to draw a salary of $500,000 a year from the Guggenheim.

Today the president played golf with John Hays Hammond and Wm. J. Boardman. The president by long distance telephone made inquiry as to the condition of Mayor Gaynor of New York, and was much pleased at the encouraging news.

President Taft's most important business today will be the convincing of President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale that he should accept the chairmanship of the stock and bond committee created by congress in lieu of the physical valuation of the railroads feature of the new railroad law. President Hadley is expected here late this afternoon to talk over the matter and the belief at the executive offices is that President Taft will be able to induce him to act.

TWO FALL DOWN AN ELEVATOR SHAFT

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Joseph Schreck was killed and Elsie Arman was probably fatally injured today by a fall of four floors down an elevator shaft. Both were employed in the coffee roasting house of W. F. McLaughlin, South Water street, where the accident occurred. It is believed they were scuffling near the open shaft, but the police are investigating whether it might not have been a suicide pact.

TWO KILLED IN KANSAS WRECK

BONNER SPRINGS, Kansas, Aug. 10.—Two stockmen were killed and a boy was injured when a Rock Island freight train crashed into the rear end of a Union Pacific stock car at Lenape, Kansas, early today. The dead:

E. T. Hamby, of Palco, Kansas. Martin Blake Wood, of Ida, Kans. The 9 year old son of the latter was seriously injured. A score of cattle were killed. The victims were

NEUMEISTER IS SANE SAY DOCTORS

Fight of Former Race Track Owner for Restored Citizenship Successful Today

William F. Neumeister, who has furnished gossip for La Crosse doctors as well as for insanity experts throughout the state and who has been in and out of the insane asylum a number of times was this afternoon declared to be sane after a rigid examination by Drs. Friend C. Suiter and J. A. Rowles.

The story of Neumeister's fight for citizenship is as good as a book and dates back some years.

Neumeister was once a wealthy La Crosse county farmer and the owner of what was declared by racing men to be the best one mile track in the country. It is believed that his mind became unbalanced about the time he became interested in his race track proposition about fifteen years ago.

The track built by Neumeister represented an outlay of thousands of dollars. It was the pet idea of Neumeister to establish La Crosse as a mecca for horse racing and to make the facilities better than at any fashionable course.

The first year of the track's existence, which was brief, many well known horses, such as the then famous "Star Pointer," were scheduled to run here. Neumeister went bankrupt and the track went to ruin and is now the Hood farm.

Neumeister was declared to be insane soon after this and after a brief stay at Mendota was released on parole. Since then he has been in and out of the institution but never for a very long duration.

The last time he was paroled was a year ago and this parole was peculiar in as much as he had legally been transferred to the incurable asylum at West Salem. Dr. Gorst, however, allowed him to come to La Crosse. Neumeister during all of his illness never attempted violence. After he was out a year the last time he petitioned for a reexamination to be declared sane and he restored to the rights of citizenship.

He was examined by Doctors Rowles and Suiter and was declared to be insane but he appealed for a re-examination and after a more rigid cross examination by the physicians was declared to be sane.

Before signing the papers which restored Neumeister the right of citizenship, Dr. Suiter told him that while he was sane on the majority of subjects there were others on which he was not exactly right. He maintained, however, that his insanity ran the same as a man's temper, and urged that it could be controlled.

Neumeister is well known in La Crosse having at one time served the city as alderman from the eleventh ward.

CENSUS INCREASES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.—The census office today announced following results of the 1910 enumeration with changes since 1900:

Hartford, Conn., 98,519; increase, 19,065, or 23.9 per cent.

Bridgeport, Conn., 102,054; increase, 31,058, or 43.7 per cent.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., 30,345; increase, 10,988, or 56.5 per cent.

PROGRESSIVE BEATS GUGGENHEIM MAN

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 10.—Advices received from Alaska today indicate that James Wickersham, insurgent and bitter opponent of the Guggenheim, has been re-elected delegate to congress from Alaska, defeating Ed Orr, regular republican, and William O'Connor, labor candidate. Orr ran strongly only in his home district, the advices say.

TAR AND FEATHER A WIFE DESERTER

New Jersey Man who Left Blind Wife for Another Woman Mobbed and Run Out of Town

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Aug. 10.—Garbed only in a raincoat which covered a liberal coating of tar and feathers, Frank Zichort was sent to the hospital in Atlantic city today in a serious condition. He was a victim of an attack by a mob last night which took him from the home of a widow at McKees City.

It was alleged that Zichort had deserted his blind wife and children to pay attention to another woman.

Crowd Gathers
At midnight the crowd gathered near the house and finally a committee knocked on the door. Zichort walked out. He was promptly seized and although the woman hysterically pleaded with the mob leaders not to hurt him he was hurried to the depot. There a keg of tar was found. While it was being melted a committee visited a number of neighboring hen houses and collected feathers.

Tied to Post
Zichort was tarred, coated with feathers and tied to a pole near the station where he remained until the arrival of the morning newspaper train. He was terribly bitten by mosquitoes while helpless against the pest. His assailants will be arrested.

ROCHESTER PLAYER TO BE SUSPENDED

The desertion of Outfielder John Grogan of the Rochester club in the Minny league has not been reported to President John Elliott, although reports from the medical city confirm the rumors. "In case he has deserted, and jumped his contract with the club, he will be suspended," said Mr. Elliott this afternoon.

HAY STARTS WAR ON PINCHOT FORCES

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 10.—Governor Hay of Washington today issued a general letter to the governors of the Pacific coast states asking them to send delegates to the St. Paul conservation congress who will fight the Pinchot forces.

Hay's call to arms charges the easterners are making a deliberate attempt to rob western states of the control of their natural resources.

LEWIS ARRIVES AT MINERS' CONVENTION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 10.—President Tom L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, returned from Ohio today and immediately took active charge of final arrangements for the special miners' convention opening here tomorrow. It is understood that in his native state Lewis conferred with miners' delegates regarding the fight that is to be waged on him by John H. Walker, Illinois president, and perhaps other delegations sympathizing with the Illinois miners.

ALVIN THIERRY IS HOME AGAIN

Alvin Thierry, the young man who disappeared from home Sunday noon, and who caused some alarm to his parents, has returned to his home. The matter was reported to the police, but no trace of the lad could be found. Monday he returned home, having been in the bottoms with several other boys.

MILWAUKEE GETS MEETING

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 10.—After a hard fight with the delegations from Chicago and St. Louis, who sought the convention for their respective cities, Milwaukee representatives today secured the 1911 meeting of the Sons of St. George. The lodge will convene in Milwaukee on the second Tuesday in Au-

ASKS HEARING FOR THE WINNEBAGOES

Tribesmen of This State Object to the Proposed Distribution of Allotments

ESCH WRITES TO WASHINGTON

Indians Allege Nebraskans Are Counted Here and Want Interest on Old Loan

Wisconsin Winnebago Indians are practically poverty stricken according to Congressman John J. Esch, who has written A. G. Valentine, commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington asking that they be given an opportunity to state their complaints before the commission before the division of the tribal funds.

The Winnebago Indians, according to Mr. Esch's letter have a number of complaints to be adjusted before they want the tribal funds allotted and in view of the fact that the Wisconsin branch is without funds to hire a lawyer to represent them he has suggested that the commissioner summon A. P. Jones, clerk in the Indian service at Black River Falls, before the commission. It is explained that Mr. Jones knows more about the affairs of the Wisconsin Winnebagos than any other man in the state having worked among them for years.

The Wisconsin tribe protests on the allotments, which were based on the census of 1882, on the grounds that many Nebraska Winnebagos are enrolled in Wisconsin. The Wisconsin Indians also claim that interest is due them on an account of $220,969.91 which it is claimed is owed them by the Nebraska branch. Twenty-four payments of $7,000.00 have been made on this by the Nebraskans and the Wisconsin branch drew and interest on the sum owing them at the time of the division of the tribe funds in 1882. It would mean the realization of a large sum for the Wisconsin Indians if the interest were to be paid, declares the congressman.

The fact that Nebraska Winnebagos are worth approximately $5,000.00 apiece, while their Wisconsin brethren are practically poverty stricken is grounds, it is claimed, for the Wisconsin members of the tribe receiving more of the trust funds than the allotment provides.

Scott Mokey, of Tomah, and John Stacy, educated Winnebagos, have been conferring with Congressman Esch on the matter.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR IN DRILL TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—All eyes today were turned to the Knights Templar Commanderies competitive drill contests at the Cubs ball park. They were the most spectacular features of the conclave.

Early, thousands of visitors thronged the west side park to secure good seats. The first on the program was an exhibition drill by the Detroit team. Chicago knows that the Detroit commandery is famous for its drilling and its work in the parade gave promise of something worth seeing and Detroit did not disappoint the spectators.

Following the exhibition drill came the contests among the commanderies in class one, with a magnificent loving cup as the prize. The following commanderies took part:

Ivanhoe, Milwaukee; Beausant, Baltimore; Kansas City; Kansas City; Oriental, Kansas City; Raper, Indianapolis; Mount Olivet, Wichita, Kansas; Hanselman, Cincinnati; Kenosha, Kenosha, Wis.

Awards This Evening
The awards will be made this evening at a dress parade of the commanderies which will be held on Michigan Avenue.

The drills consisted of infantry maneuvers and the sword manual of the Knights Templar. Capt. James B. Rowen, Captain R. E. Ingram and Captain James S. Young, of the Tenth Infantry, U. S. A. located at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis acted as judges.

Preceding the prize drills tomorrow Detroit and Chicago commanderies will give exhibition drills.

The election of officers will take place tomorrow. The usual custom will be followed and all present officers be advanced in rank. The only contest therefore is for the office of grand junior warden.

The next convention city will also be decided at the session tomorrow. The conclave today greeted the governing officers of the order from England and Canada. The order was drawn closer together by the adoption of the committee's report recognizing the amicable relations between the jurisdiction in the United States and those in foreign countries. This is in no sense an amalgamation of the jurisdictions, but merely the declaration of a closer fellowship.

WM. GAYNOR SITS UP IN BED TODAY

Condition of Wounded Executive Is Improved and Doctors will Not Probe for Ball

QUICK JUSTICE IMPENDING

Gallagher, Deprived of Intoxicants, on Point of Breaking Down; to Get Long Term

HOBOKEN, N. J., Aug. 10.—The following bulletin on the condition of Mayor Gaynor was issued at the hospital at 4 o'clock this afternoon. "The mayor is resting comfortably and physicians in attendance have nothing to add to their bulletin of this morning. A consultation of physicians will be held at 8:30 this evening and the public will be notified of the result. (Signed) "DR. ARLITZ."

HOBOKEN, N. J., Aug. 10.—Unless infection manifests itself there will be no operation to remove the split bullet from Mayor Gaynor's throat. This was agreed upon by the doctors in attendance today following a second inspection of the X-ray plates taken yesterday afternoon. It was stated that it was most remarkable that the pieces of lead could have landed where they did without severing important blood vessels. In order to get them out it would be necessary to cut in strong veins and arteries with the probability of a loss of blood that would weaken the patient. To avoid this it was agreed that there would be no probing unless the mayor's temperature rises or there are outward indications that infection is present in the wound.

A call was sent out for all of the doctors in the case to meet at the hospital at noon to discuss the case. A plan of treatment for the wound which would keep it clean and aid in its rapid healing was to be devised and a general study of the patient made by the gunshot wound experts.

Condition Satisfactory

All agreed that the condition of the patient this morning was eminently satisfactory although there was no disposition to declare him out of danger as yet.

In his room on the fourth floor in the hospital, the mayor was very cheerful. Mrs. Gaynor and the nurses were constantly in attendance and the wounded man joked feebly with them. He was hungry and said so. Occasionally he would suggest that the nurses bring him some real solid food and he bewailed to his wife the fact that coffees brought him very far from being a satisfactory breakfast for a vigorous man. Occasionally he would seem to have difficulty in breathing and this was declared by the attending physician to be due to the presence of the bullet which set up a slight irritation. His temperature was 104 degrees about normal, indicating, the doctors said, that there was no infection whatever in the wound.

Doesn't Mention Assailant

Since he was taken to the hospital the mayor has not mentioned his assailant. He seems to have taken it for

CONTEST BEGINS

Leadership during the Campaign Depends Upon Result at the Primaries

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 10.—Upon the result of the primary campaign in this state early next month will depend the choice of either C. H.
Crownhart of Superior or W. D.
Connor of Marshfield for state republican chairman. Men in close touch with the situation credit both of these shrewd campaign managers with aspirations at control of the republican state campaign for the real election contest to be settled at the November polls.

All political parties in Wisconsin will meet in the capital in this city on Tuesday, Sept. 27 at 12 o'clock, noon, to adopt their party platform and elect state central committees.
The present republican chairman is E. A. Edmonds of Appleton, who has virtually retired from the management of the campaign.

C. H. Crownhart is manager of the La Follette campaign. He is now being credited with political astuteness and knowledge of men that have given him much prestige as a party leader, and he has many strong friends who will give him support in case he determines to stand for the position.

The prohibitionists have already,
in state conference, chosen J. B.
Smith of this city for another term as state chairman, and all that remains to fulfill the primary law's requirements is the platform convention's ratification. The present socialist chairman is Victor Berger of Milwaukee. It is not known whether he desires another term or whether he will have opposition in case he does.

TICKET IN FIELD

County Optionists of Minnesota will Probably Support Lind for Governor

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 10.—Strife is at hand among the county option-ists.

P. J. Youngdahl, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league and one of the leaders of the county option forces, stated unqualifiedly that the county optionists would support John Lind in case he should accept the democratic nomination for governor.

Mr. Youngdahl, at the time of giving out this interview, said that he was not talking for the Anti-Saloon league, which is a non-partisan organization. He was, talking, he said, as a county optionist.

The leader of the drys at the same time admitted that efforts were being made to put an independent ticket into the field. In this connection the name of Cyrus Northrup has come out.

So far as John Lind is concerned the situation remains unchanged.
No word has been received from him or his son, Norman Lind. Mr.
Lind will reach Seattle on the last of this week or the first of next, but those in a position to know just when he will arrive refuse to give out information.

JOHN D'S MEN FINED FOR SPEEDING

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 10.—
John D. Rockefeller remained at Forest Hill while his chauffeur, H. J.
Benedict and A. J. Knapp, his grounds superintendent, rode to South Euclid to plead a charge of exceeding the speed limit last Thursday. Benedict plead guilty and was fined a total of $5.

John D.'s limousine stayed home too. Knapp and Benedict drove to court in a one horse rig at the speed of about four miles an hour. Squire J. W. Dean came from the cellar he was digging to receive the visitors.

Benedict said his machine which Rockefeller purchased some time ago would not go at the rate of 30 miles an hour as charged by Marshal Bil-key, who arrested Rockefeller at Forest Hill Tuesday. Benedict then plead guilty, was fined $5 and costs. Benedict and Knapp drove back to Forest Hill.

"Mr. Rockefeller was not guilty of speeding," said Knapp. "Whatever blame there was Benedict was responsible for. Therefore, Rockefeller did not think it was necessary to appear in court. We drove over in a buggy because it is sandy and only a short distance."

POULTRY FANCIERS TO MEET TONIGHT

Arrangements will be Made for Weekly Visits of Members to Yards of Breeders

At a meeting of the members of the Western Wisconsin Poultry association to be held this evening at the city hall a plan will be devised to visit the yards of local fanciers once each week, between now and the holding of the next poultry show in this city, December 7 to 12. It is proposed to visit one or two yards each week, all the members of the association participating in the visit.
A free school of instruction will be conducted in the yards of each fan-cier, E. H. Hoffman, the local judge, assisting in the work. Birds will be scored and matters pertaining to the breeding of the several varieties will be discussed.

A large number of the varieties on the Standard of Perfection are bred in this city, thus giving the members of the association an opportunity of handling a variety of birds. This plan will be adopted for the purpose of arousing interest and increasing the membership of the association.
This evening preliminary steps will be taken to arrange the premium list for the coming show. It is proposed to make this one of the best poultry shows ever held in La Crosse and it is especially desired that all local fanciers who are breeding standard poultry join the organization and exhibit their birds at next winter's show.

All fanciers in the city, whether members of the association or not,
are invited to be present at this evening's meeting.

DAHL WOULD SELL LAND TO SETTLERS

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 10.—In his annual report State Treasurer A. H.
Dahl will recommend a change in the system of selling state lands, hoping to make it possible for settlers to pay part of the full amount, instead of cash for the total amount,
and giving them long time payments for the remainder, with an easy rate of interest. Demanding full payment, says Mr. Dahl, usually breaks people, leaving them without a cent with which to build a home and make a start, the consequence being that the demand for state lands is light, and it will be a long time before the northern part of the state is settled. Mr. Dahl will write a law which provides for long time payments and a reasonable rate of interest.

"We must offer greater inducements," said Mr. Dahl today, "if we hope to build up the northern part of Wisconsin."

MAY NOMINATE
T. R. FOR GOVERNOR

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Nominate Theodore Roosevelt for governor of New York—and trust to luck, is the plan proposed today by some of the leaders in the republican organization as a way out of the political dilemma they are facing in this fall's campaign. They know Roosevelt does not want the nomination but the plan entails a quick adjournment of the convention before he can decline and then—the deluge.

LUMBER FIRE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 10.—More than 20 firemen and citizens were painfully injured and more than $1,000,000 in property was destroyed as the result of the blaze last night that swept more than three acres of the lumber district. More than 1,000 firemen were employed on the fire.

GAME WARDENS MUST RIDE HORSES

State Warden Rickemann
Issues Order Compelling
Mounting of Forest
Patrollers

It is unauthoritatively stated that Chief Game Warden George W.
Rickemann has issued orders that game wardens detailed to duty in the northern woods shall provide themselves with the best saddle horses to be found and that the wardens shall use them continually. Rickemann says this will greatly improve the efficiency of the service.

Rickemann is at present visiting various places about the state, noted for the good hunting, and is rounding up the deputies in view of bagging a large number of law violators this fall.

It was during one of his recent trips that he is said to have ordered the use of horses.

NEW OVER-THA-SEA RECORD

BLACKPOOL, England, Aug. 10.—
A new aeroplane record for flying over the sea was established today by Robt. Lorraine, one of the best known English aviators, who flew from Blackpool to Llandudno, Wales, on Rhos Bay. Practically the whole of the flight was over the Irish sea, the distance between 55 and 60 miles.

Make Your "Meat"
Shredded Wheat

These are troublous times for the man who eats food.

The Government is after the beef trust, the poultry trust and "the cold storage egg". But while congress, state legislatures and grand juries are "investigating" the high cost of living, your meat bills and grocery bills are soaring higher and higher.

The food problem is an easy one if you know

SHREDDED WHEAT

It contains more real body-building nutriment than meat or eggs, is more easily digested and costs much less. Always clean—always pure—always the same price. Your grocer sells it.

ALL THE "MEAT" OF THE GOLDEN WHEAT

Shredded Wheat Biscuit is made of the whole wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked in the cleanest, finest food factory in the world. It is ready-cooked, ready-to-serve. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits heated in the oven to restore crispness, and eaten with a little hot milk, and salted or sweetened to suit the taste, will supply all the energy needed for a half-day's work. If you like it for breakfast, you will like it for any meal in combination with vegetables, baked apples, sliced bananas, stewed prunes or other fruits.

WANTS CONCERTED WORK AT ST. PAUL

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 10.—
With a view of adopting a harmonious policy, to be urged at the coming St. Paul conservation congress, Gov. Hay of Washington will soon call a conference of the governors of the northwestern and Pacific states, to be held here. Gov. Spry, of Utah, who has received a tentative invitation from Hay, has telegraphed his acceptance.

Hay wants the governors to "get together" and to act in concert at the St. Paul congress on conservation problems.

TELEGRAPH LINES DISCONTINUE PASSES

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—All franks and half rate certificates were today called in by the Postal and Western Union Telegraph companies. In circular letters sent out by the two corporations attention is called to the provision of the new railroad law, which makes the telegraph companies common carriers, and prohibits the granting of free or reduced rate tickets for messages.
In their letters to clients both companies state that on and after August 18 the "complimentary business" will be permanently discontinued.

MISS ELKINS WILL NOT WED ABRUZZI

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—These frequent reports of the forthcoming marriage of my daughter and the Duke of Abruzzi are becoming amusing," said Senator Elkins today, referring to the recent report by a news agency that the engagement was about to be formally announced. "As far as the marriage story goes," he remarked, "you can say positively from me that it is absolutely without foundation. It is a foolish rumor and nothing more and I am glad to deny it emphatically."

CHOLERA BECOMES NATIONAL MENACE

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 10.—
The growth of the cholera scourge in Russia within a few days, owing to a spell of unusually hot weather, has been so alarming that the government is at last awake to the fact that a national calamity confronts it.

Factories are shutting down everywhere, mines are temporarily closed, railroads are hampered and the peasantry so frightened that the unharvested crops are rotting in the fields.

In rural Russia alone there are today approximately 100,000 cases of such a malignant type that nearly 50 per cent are proving fatal.

In the cities the conditions are equally appalling.

TAFT NAMES DELEGATES

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 10.—Announcement is made that the president had appointed the following delegates to the 13th annual convention of the American Mining congress, which is to be held in Los Angeles
September 26 to Oct. 1: John Hays
Hammond of New York; Hon. Curtis
H. Lindley of San Francisco; Dr.
James Douglas, Dr. Walter R. Ingalls and J. Park Canning of New York; Dr. H. Foster Bain of San Francisco, Edward Parker and W. C.
Mendenhall of the U. S. geological survey, Joseph A. Holmes and Geo.
T. Wright of the bureau of mines.

REDMEN IN SESSION

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Aug. 10.—
The great council of Improved Order of Red Men opened its session here today for its three days' annual convention and several hundred delegates from various parts of the state are expected here.

RESTAURANT GOWN WITH PICTURE HAT

Cafe au lait, that exquisite blending of pale tan and cream tones so aptly described by a French name, is the coloring of the lovely costume illustrated. Over a pleated jupe of creamy tan chiffon hangs a tunic of deep coffee colored chif-fon heavily embroidered with cream silk. The absolute simplicity in the line of this gown serves to bring out all the richness of the embroidery.
The whole gown is dropped over a foundation of pale shell pink satin which gives a soft glow to the cream and tan tones, and the big black hat bears at one side a pink velvet rose.

THE FINAL JUDGES

After voting down an endorsement of President Taft and the Aldrich-Payne tariff act, the Iowa republican convention adopted a platform in which it is declared:

"The republicans of Iowa are the best judges of the republicanism of the senators and representatives whom they send to congress and they resent any attempt to exclude any of them from the honors and privileges which properly attach to membership in the republican party."

Such is the reply made by the republicans of Iowa to President Taft's fatuous course in "disciplining" the insurgents for having taken him at his word and voted against the Payne-Aldrich tariff act because its authors did not keep faith with the people and carry out the pledge made by Mr. Taft that the revision promised "on the whole" would be "substantially downward."

The declaration of the Iowa republicans that they are the best judges of the republicanism of their representatives in congress ought to be illuminating to Mr. Connor and his Tory associates who are urging the republicans of Wisconsin to nominate Mr. Fairchild for governor and defeat Mr. La Follette for senate under the plea of "standing by Taft."

on violation of the republican party's pledges. No one, Mr. Connor's committee asserts, is a republican who does not approve the repudiation of the tariff pledge of the republican party as interpreted by its candidate for president. No one is a republican who is opposed to legislation for the Special Interests.

Opposition to the Wickersham railway measure was deemed to be little less treasonable than opposition to the Payne-Aldrich act. The Wickersham bill was to be passed without change. Aldrich, who had been charged with conniving to block the president's program, dramatically declared that he was for the president's "progressive" measure, and that it should be passed precisely as it came from the president's hands—that opposition to it would be treated as rebellion against party authority and a betrayal of the administration. Yet it was opposed by the progressives and made into a genuinely progressive measure. To quote Senator Cummins:

"The president assumed the initiative, but unfortunately, as I view it, he delegated to the attorney general the task of preparing a bill to be laid before congress. I have no reason to doubt the honesty of the attorney general, but he had just come from a long professional training and association which unfitted him to deal wisely with this subject, and there came from his hands into the house and senate a bill which, if it had passed, as Aldrich so emphatically declared it should pass, would have consigned the republican party to eternal disgrace and defeat."

It is because the progressives have sought to prevent the Aldrichites from "consigning the republican party to eternal disgrace and defeat" that the republicans of Wisconsin are called upon to impeach the republicanism of Senator La Follette and the progressive representatives in congress. We have an idea that when the republicans of Wisconsin speak they, too, will say, as did the republicans of Iowa, that they are the best judges of the republicanism of their senators and representatives in congress. And we may believe that they, too, will indicate quite plainly to Mr. Taft that they resent any attempt to exclude them from the honors and privileges that attach to membership in the republican party.

Mr. Taft has blundered and blundered grievously but the most pitiful blunder of all was when he gave countenance to Stephenson and Connor as representative of Wisconsin republicanism and sought to bar from republican fellowship the men who have made Wisconsin republicanism known throughout the land as synonymous with progressive policies and the embodiment of the Wisconsin idea.—Milwaukee Journal.

THE VIRTUES OF WOMEN

The Dubuque Telegraph-Herald publishes one of the sanest editorial comments upon the cry which has been raised by Christian Endeavorers against Mrs. Alice Longworth's cigarette smoking, which has come to the attention of The Tribune. The Telegraph-Herald says:

"Various Christian Endeavor societies have addressed protests to Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, ex-Roosevelt, against her use of cigarettes. They say that by reason of her position in society her example is pernicious in its influence upon the young. 'Cigarette smoking is common among women of the Latin countries and among the ladies at court in Russia and other European countries, and among the highest class English women. The 'old women' of Ireland for long years have found solace in a pipe of tobacco."

"What is new to us is old elsewhere. And what is not approved under our social standards is approved elsewhere. Mrs. Longworth would not be rebuked for cigarette smoking if she resided in any other country than America. 'Here the Puritanical instinct survives. The smoking of cigarettes by women is a scandal and gives rise to suspicions of the moral stamina of the woman indulging. It is profitless to argue with the point of view. It is part of the asceticism that enforced virtue in the colonies with rigorous penalties and mortified the flesh with denial of desire and the eschewing of pleasures material."

"This Puritanism is called provincialism today. And there is altogether too much of provincialism, which is expressed in gossip concerning one's neighbors, suspicion, and impugning of motives. 'Mrs. Longworth may, indeed, smoke cigarettes. And we may individually hold to our opinions concerning her indulgence in the weed. But there is no instance of record wherein Mrs. Longworth's tongue blighted a reputation. And assassinating reputations is an offense a good deal more reprehensible than smoking cigarettes.'"

SPOTLIGHTS

"DANIEL BOONE ON THE TRAIL"

"Daniel Boone on the Trail" is the title of one of the best historical melodramas on the road, and it will be presented at the La Crosse theater in this city next Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 3 and 4, by a company of 20 first class artists. Judging from press comments from surrounding cities, our theater goers have a treat in store for them. The company carries a den of wolves and bears, and also have a pioneer band in the play. First class specialties are given throughout the play. One of the most exciting climaxes ever witnessed on the stage is presented by this company when Daniel Boone's daughter is thrown into the cage of these ferocious, man-eating wolves, and Col. Boone's fight for life in rescuing her. Prices for this engagement will be 10, 25, 35 and 50 cents and seats are now on sale at the usual place. Don't fail to hear the Pioneer band.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN AT THE BIJOU

Parts one and two of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" were shown in motion pictures at the Bijou last night. No higher praise can be given than to apply the word "masterpiece" to this latest production of the Vitagraph Co., who surpassed themselves in the elaborate settings and costumes shown. That Bijou patrons appreciated the treat will be seen from the fact that the house was crowded at both afternoon and evening. The audience following with keen interest the working out of this favorite story. Tonight part three will be shown, portraying the sale of Uncle Tom to Legree, the escape of Cassie, and the punishment and death of Uncle Tom.

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel for Sore Feet, Acts Right Off

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

He plucked the lovely blossom and tore its leaves apart, And thrust with lens and lancet for the mystery of its heart;

He traced its meeping in a book, and sought its family name, And why it happened to be here, and its beauty came.

A happy boy came down the road, with music on his lips, And in his heart the memory of rose-companionships;

He had no prying microscope, no laboratory brine— He said, "O, lovely little flower! God made you and you're mine!"

Reveridge's Persistence

Albert J. Beveridge, the "Grand Young Man of Indiana," who is now up to his neck in a desperate fight to make his state go republican in the next elections, is persistent in anything he undertakes. A writer in the Popular Magazine tells how, when he was fighting the bill giving statehood to Arizona and New Mexico, is President Roosevelt's administration, he used to go to the White House practically every day to enlist the strong support of the president.

On one occasion a newspaper man entered Mr. Roosevelt's office by one door just as the senator from Indiana was leaving by the other. The president turned to the journalist with a look of annoyance on his face, started to speak, and then checked himself.

But the impulse was too strong. "If I die within the next thirty days," he burst out, "I want them to put on my tombstone: 'Pestered to death by Beveridge.'"

Only Needed the Job

They were telling stories about the late President McKinley at a recent Washington gathering and Senator Carter of Montana told this one:

A Chicago man appeared at the White House one day with a petition containing seven thousand names recommending him for appointment as Brazilian minister. He was a picture framer, and when he was canvassing for orders he took along his petition and asked everybody in the picture frame business to sign it. Almost everybody did.

The man was insistent and finally reached the president. Always gentle and considerate, President McKinley explained to the candidate that he would have to consult the Illinois senators before making the appointment.

"You know," said the president, "we have to select big men for these big places."

"Well," asked the picture framer, "won't I be just as big as any of them if I get the job?"

Abuse of Hospitality

Charles M. Schwab, at his dinners in his splendid white mansion in Riverside Drive, tells a number of stories about thrift.

"Excellent as thrift is," Mr. Schwab will sometimes say, "it may yet be carried too far."

"Jones for example, on a hot afternoon entered a Pittsburg saloon to get a glass of cold lager. Perceiving Smith at the bar said generously:

"Hello, Smith! Will you have a beer?"

"The thrifty Smith, as he pushed away his empty glass, answered: 'No thanks, Jones; I don't care for another beer; but you can pay for this one I've just finished if you like.'"

"That excuse only increases the awkwardness of the case," said Mayor Gaynor of a political fiasco. "That excuse reminds me of young Dr. Stuart."

"Dr. Stuart, a short time after he began to practice, was summoned to attend a banker suffering from typhoid. Dr. Stuart pulled the banker through. Then, in taking leave for good, he congratulated his patient and himself, and said he would just call once more in the course of the week to make sure that no complications had set in."

He called five days later. The banker's brother met him at the door with a very long face.

"Poor George is dead," he said solemnly.

"Dr. Stuart turned pale. 'How am I to get out of this,' he thought. 'I must exonerate myself somehow. What negligence have I shown?' Then he said:

"Well, on the whole, I'm not surprised. This isn't the first fatal case of typhoid convalescence, nor will it be the last. A clot, it is clear, formed suddenly at the base of your brother's medulla, the diaphragm was discordant, and the usual heart failure ensued."

"Dr. Stuart rattled on for several minutes in that strain, but at the end of a long and involved sentence, when he paused to take breath, the dead man's brother said solemnly:

"No, Dr. Stuart, you are wrong. That isn't what killed George. He went bathing at Coney Island and

The GIRL FROM HIS TOWN

MARIE VAN VORST

Copyright by Robbs-Merrill Company

"Well, I hate him," Blair simply stated. "I would wring his neck for twenty cents. But she's very ill; that is what is the matter with her."

"They all look like that off the stage," the duchess assured indifferently. "They are nothing but footlight beauties; they look ghastly off the boards. I dare say that Letty Lane is ill, though; the pace she goes would kill anybody. Have some more tea?"

He held out his cup and agreed with her.

"She works too hard—this playing almost every night, singing and dancing twice at the matinees. I should think she would be dead."

"Oh, I don't mean her professional engagements," murmured the duchess.

A revolt such as had stung him when they criticized her at the Carlton rose in him now.

"It is hard to believe," he said, "when you hear her sing that dove song and that cradle song."

But his companion's laugh stopped her championship short.

"You dear boy, don't be a silly. Dan. She doesn't need your pity or your good opinion. She is perfectly satisfied. She has got a fortune in Ponitowsky, and she really is 'a perfect terror,' you know."

Affected slightly by her cold dismissal of his subject, he paused for a moment. But his own point of view was too strong to be shaken by this woman's light words.

"I suppose if she wasn't from my town—" At his words the vision of Letty Lane with the coral strands on her dress, came before his eyes, and he said honestly: "But I do take an interest in her just the same, and she's going to pieces, that's clear. Something ought to be done."

The duchess of Breakwater was very much annoyed.

"Are you going to talk about her all the time?" she asked with sharp sweetness. "You are not very flattering, Dan."

And he returned peacefully. "Why, I thought you might be able to help her in some way or another."

"Me?" She laughed aloud. "Me help Letty Lane? Really?"

"Why, you might get her to sing out here," he suggested. "That would sort of get hold of her; women know how to do those things."

His preposterous simplicity overwhelmed her. She stirred her tea, and said, controlling herself, "Why, what on earth would you have me do to Letty Lane?"

"Oh, just be nice to her," he suggested. "Tell her to take care of herself, and to brace up. Get some nice woman to—"

The duchess helped him. "To reform her?"

"Do her good," the boy said gently.

"You're too silly for words. If you were not such a hopeless child I would be furious with you. Why, my dear boy, she would laugh in your face and in mine."

As the duchess left the tea-table she repeated: "Is this what you came up from London to talk to me about?"

And at the touch of her dress as she passed him—at the look she gave him from her eyes—Dan flushed and said honestly: "Why, I told you that she was the only thing that kept me from thinking about you all the time."

CHAPTER IX. Disappointment.

Dan Blair had not been back of the scenes at the Gaiety since his first call on the singer. Indeed, though he had told the duchess he pitied Miss Lane, he had not been able to approach her very closely, even in his own thoughts.

She first appeared on his horizon when his mind was full of the duchess of Breakwater, and the singer had only hovered round his mind as profound feelings for another woman. But Letty Lane was an atmosphere in Dan's mind which he was not yet able to understand. There was so little left that was connected with his old home, certainly nothing in the British Isles, excepting Ruggles, and to the young man everything from America had its value. Decidedly the nice girl of whom he had spoken to Gordon Galorey, the print-frocker, sunbonneted type, the ideal girl that Dan would like to marry and to spoil, had not crossed his path. The duchess of Breakwater did not suggest her, nor did any of the London beauties. Dan's first ideal was beginning to fade.

He left Osden Park on protest and returned the same night to London, and all the way back to town tried to register in his mind, unused to analysis, his experience with the duchess of Breakwater on this last visit.

He had experienced his first disappointment in the sex, and this disappointment had been of an unusual kind. It was not that he had been turned down or given the mitten, but he had seen one woman turn another down. A woman had been mean, so he put it, and the fact that the duchess of Breakwater had refused to lend a moral hand to the singer at the Gaiety hurt Dan's feelings. Then, as soon as his enthusiasm had calmed, he saw what a stupor had been had. A duchess couldn't mix up with a comic opera singer, of course. Still, he mused, "she might have been a little nicer about it."

The education his father had given him about women, the slender information he had about them, was put to the test now; the girl he had dreamed of, "the nice girl," well, she would have had a tenderer way Back of Dan's nurt feelings, there was a great deal on the duchess of Breakwater's side. She had not done for herself yet. She hadn't fetched him nearly up to the altar for nothing, and back of his disapproval, there was a long list of admirations and looks, memories of many tete-a-tetes and of more fervent kisses which scored a good deal in the favor of Dan's first woman.

The duchess of Breakwater had gone boldly on with Dan's unfinished education, and he really thought he loved her, and that he was in honor bound to see the thing through.

That evening, once more in the box he had taken all to himself, he listened to Mandalay, carried away with the charm of the music and carried away by the singer. He was in the box nearest the stage and seemed close to her, and he imagined that under her paint he could see her pallor and how thin she was. Nothing, however, in her acting or in her voice revealed the least fatigue. Blair had obtained a card of entrance to the theater, which permitted him to circulate freely behind the scenes, and although as yet the run of his visits had not been clear, this night he had a purpose. Dan stood not far from the corridor that led to Letty Lane's room, and saw her after her act hurriedly cross the stage, a big white shawl wrapping her slender form closely. She was as thin as a candle. Her woman Higgins followed closely after her, and as they passed Dan, Letty Lane called to him gaily:

"Hello, you! What are you hanging around here for?"

And Dan returned: "Don't stand here in the draft. It is beastly cold."

Bradford today admitted inserting the "ads" for stenographers in a local paper, but immediately claimed he was a clairvoyant and denounced the police for breaking into his rooms. Bradford was arrested before for annoying women.

has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp-rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

BLACK BETRAYER IN LAW'S CLUTCHES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 10.—City, county and federal authorities united today to prosecute James Bradford, a negro arrested Saturday night after he had lured a young white girl to a room in a downtown building through a "want ad" and was attempting to attack her.

It has been discovered that Bradford has carried on a systematic campaign to lure girls to his room by the same methods and forced Lulu Fahlhammer, 19, at the point of a revolver, to sign a note exonerating him of all charges after she came to the room. The girl's mother told of the attack on her daughter today, saying that, as a climax to his outrages, the negro had cut a lock of hair from her daughter's head and pinned it to the note she was forced

DISCUSS WATER QUESTION TONIGHT

Mass Meeting to Be Held at Woodmen Hall on Rose Street; Citizens to Talk

Tonight at the Woodmen hall on Rose and St. James streets, a public mass meeting of the citizens of the city will be held to discuss the water question as pertaining to the city in general and to the North side in particular. The meeting is held under the auspices of the North Side Progressive League and will be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock.

Barney Olson and C. W. Dickenson will be the principal speakers of the evening. The entire public of the city is invited to attend the meeting. The various systems for supplying the city with water will be discussed and people in the audience will no doubt secure valuable information on the city's greatest civic problem. The water pressure on the North side has been poor and inadequate for some time and this meeting has been called by President Marvin of the League to ascertain the prevailing opinion of the citizens of the North side in regard to the various proposed systems. Reports of the systems which are proposed for this city will be discussed, this taking up the greater part of the meeting.

PASSENGER TRAIN KILLS A FARMER

The east bound through passenger train on the Milwaukee & St. Paul road yesterday morning ran down and killed at Reeds Landing a man about sixty years of age named Singer, the killing taking place within sight of the man's home, which was only about sixty rods away. The man was walking on a sidetrack there, a freight train being on the other track and he did not notice the passenger train coming along on the same track on which he was walking. The train struck the man and killed him instantly. Singer was a man about sixty years of age with a family.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Dispatches today from Addis Ababa say that Empress Taitu of Abyssinia, recently attempted flight from the capital, disguised in male attire. She was captured and forcibly returned to the palace. It was Taitu's intention to seek refuge with her brother Ras Olie, who is governor and practically the independent ruler of one of the southern provinces of Abyssinia. She is suspected of designs on the life of Lidi Jassau, the boy emperor, who recently acquired the throne in succession to King Menelik.

OUTCASTS PLAY HERE TOMORROW

Return from Successful Trip on Road and will be Home for 15 Games; Attendance Wanted

Today the Outcasts are finishing up the present road trip at Rochester and tomorrow the Winona Pirates will be the attraction in this city for the first opening series here for over a week. Although they have not won the majority of the games they have done well. Out of the eight played the team has won three.

The club will be home for fifteen straight games and with a penchant for winning every day on the home grounds the percentage should begin to increase for them. Winona will be here tomorrow and the fans should turn out. The end of the season is approaching and it is up to the fans to show that they want the franchise to remain in this city next year. This will be Winona's last appearance in the city this season. Red Wing, Duluth, Superior and Rochester will also make their farewell trips to the city during the coming fifteen days.

AVIATOR INJURED

WOMAN MAKES QUEER STATEMENTS

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 10.—District Attorney Lea of Sonoma county in a statement to the United Press today for the first time revealed the theory on which the state is seeking Manjiro Yamaguchi, the Japanese boy wanted in connection with the murder of the Kendall family near here.

Repeated misrepresentation of statements alleged to have been made by Mrs. Margaret Starbuck, owner of the ranch on which the crimes were committed, regarding confessions reported to have been made to her by the Japanese, inspired Lea's statement.

"Mrs. Starbuck declares," Lea said, "that Yamaguchi came to her and said:

"Tom Kendall struck me. He pounded me and kicked me and shot me. I shot him."

"Then Mrs. Starbuck said Yamaguchi added: 'I shot him; I did him up.'"

"Mrs. Starbuck said she told the Japanese he was mad and told him to wait. She went to call the police and when she returned Yamaguchi was gone. She says she has no idea where he went."

prising the 53rd, 55th and 56th regiments, Iowa National Guard, left on special trains from thirty cities in the state today for Sparta, Wis., for a ten days' tour of duty with regular troops.

Governor B. F. Carroll and staff will visit the camp next week to make an inspection.

This is the largest body of troops to leave the state since the Spanish-American war.

STEAMERS COLLIDE
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Norwegian steamer Rosario Digargio, which arrived today from Port Antonio, reported that yesterday it was in collision with the United States collier Marcellus, in latitude 36, longitude 74.08. The two vessels crashed at 2:30 in the morning. The fruit vessel had her bow stove in, while the Marcellus was struck a blow in the side.

Capt. Karlson declined to tell what damage the collier had sustained but she was able to proceed on her journey.

ISLAND HOUSEBOAT

A woman who has been living in a house boat near the lower end of Pettibone island rushed to the camp of Harry Taggart, which is not far from the scene, and complained a man who had been loitering about tried to kill her. Her face was covered with blood in verification of her story. She came to La Crosse in her night clothing, and later went to La Crescent to induce the authorities to oust the tramp who had taken possession of her shanty boat. She claims the La Crescent authorities demanded she put up $25 to insure costs. When the woman returned to her shanty it had been burned to the water's edge and the stranger had decamped in his skiff.

NEW HOSPITAL
TO COST $10,000

If the plans for the new La-Crosse county tuberculosis hospital, as presented to the county board committee by Architect Perkinson & Dockendorf this afternoon, are accepted it will mean the appropriation of $5,000 more by the county board for the erection and furnishing of the building.

The original appropriation of the board was $5,000 but, according to the architects it would be practically impossible to erect a building of any size or quality for this sum.

The plans are for a two story structure, well equipped with light, a water and all modern conveniences, and of the most notable features being the large, airy and roomy porches provided for about the building. Back of the porches are to be large plate glass windows to allow the admission of light and sunshine.

"The plans are good, I think," said E. W. Davis, chairman of the committee in charge of the erection of the new building, "and I think in all probability the extra $5,000 will be appropriated. The $10,000 will cover the cost of all equipment."

BERNSDORF-WACHS

The marriage of Miss Semelda Bernsdorf and Charles Wachs took place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the parsonage of the German Reformed church, Rev. F. W. Lemke officiating. Miss Edith Bernsdorf, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid and Frank Wachs of Wabasha, Minn., brother of the groom, acted as best man. Only a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents at Hokah where a wedding dinner was served.

The bride has been in the employ of the E. R. Barron company for a number of years and the groom is a bookkeeper in the office of the C. & J. Michel Brewing company. Mr. and Mrs. Wachs have gone to Milwaukee and Chicago on their honeymoon and in ten days they will return to this city to make their future home.

JOKERS SLIP ONE OVER ON WRIGHT

Bangor Marshal Did Not Act on Class Prejudice and Stopped an Altercation

Jokers "slipped one over" on the Tribune and on Village Marshall A. Wright of Bangor yesterday when they succeeded in getting into print a story of how the marshal was alleged to have been vanquished in a tussle with two residents of that section after trying to stop an argument in "Low Dutch," which the jokers said, was offensive to Wright, who was pictured as a real old-sod Irishman.

The facts in the case are that John Meyer, a farm hand employed in the town of Burns came into Bangor and began abusing George Johnson, a young man of the village. This has grown into a habit with some of the tougher element, and Marshall Wright, who is an American and bears no evidence of the Irish nativity the jokers sought to give him, beckoned to Johnson to quit the argument and go on about his business. Johnson walked along with the officer and Meyer followed along behind, continuing his remark and banter. He was advised by the officer to desist, and replied with a defiant remark. He continued his offensive attitude and was told he could not do as he pleased in Bangor, wherewith Marshall Wright took Meyer by the arm. Meyer jerked away and showed resistance, striking at Wright. The marshal was reluctant to use his billy, but with this show of fight from Meyer pulled his club and prepared to enforce his stand. William Meyer, brother of the trouble maker, had joined the group and grasped Marshall Wright's hand containing the billy, while the officer with his other hand clung to John Meyer. With their combined strength the brothers forced the officer backward off the curb, where they fell down. By this time Marshall Wright had freed his arm and tapped the resisting Meyer over the head. Meyer was helped up by friends and ran off up the street. Marshall Wright secured a warrant for Meyer, charging him with resisting an officer, and when taken before Police Justice August Nelson, Meyer pleaded for time to get an attorney and the case was adjourned until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. R. W. Davis, who acts as prosecutor, had other business in La Crosse, and probably for this reason dismissed the case against Meyer before it was called.

Marshall Wright was not subjected to the indignities or the rough handling the jokers sought to lead the public to believe. On the other hand he is known in Bangor as an efficient and careful officer.

Walking off of a bridge on the other side of the river, James Baker of Spring Valley, Minn., fell a considerable distance and sustained a bad injury to the knee. He had gone as far as La Crescent on the headend of a train and from there he started to walk across the bridge. He was brought to this city after the accident, taken to the central police station where a doctor attended him.

PART THREE. THE BEST OF ALL.

PAY LAST RESPECT TO HUGO SCHICK

Many Attend the Funeral of Well Known Architect This Afternoon

Services over the remains of the late Hugo Schick were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the house, 1424 State street, and were attended by a large number of friends. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. J. L. Panzlau of the German Methodist church and the choir of that church rendered two selections, one "Nearer My God to Thee," and the other "Lead Kindly Light." Many beautiful floral tributes were in evidence.

At the grave in Oak Grove cemetery William Luening spoke in the German language, paying a high tribute to the life of the deceased. Mr. Luening spoke of his career as an architect and called attention to his kind disposition and his love for his fellowmen. The Lieberkranz sang a selection at the grave.

The active pallbearers were the Messrs. M. Guenther, C. J. Felber, George Zeisler, George Warringer, O. E. Wieland and Louis Pamperin. The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Carl Kurtenacker, V. Tausche, Otto Loeffler, N. Haerter, Leonard Frey and Adam Kroner.

Mrs. William Irwin

The funeral of Mrs. William Irwin was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church, many friends attending the services which were conducted by Rev. D. C. Jones. Interment was made in Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers were George D. Wright, D. G. Whyte, W. E. Walker, B. C. Smith, C. W. Dow and A. C. Schmidt.

Miss Selma Grafer

The funeral of Miss Selma Grafer was held from the undertaking parlors of Tetley & Elbertson this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. R. Anderson officiating. Interment was made in Oak Grove cemetery.

REV. INGHAM WILL REMAIN IN CITY

At the fourth quarterly conference of the Caledonia Street M. E. church held last night at the church, Rev. A. V. Ingham was cordially invited to remain as pastor of the church for another year.

District Superintendent W. H. Vance presided over the meeting and stated today that he had found every department of the church in the best condition.

BROOKLYN BUYS PITCHER SCHARDT

Star La Crosse Twirler of Last Season to Go to Trolley Dodgers from Brewers

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 10.—It was announced here today that President Ebbets of the Brooklyn National league club had purchased Pitcher Wilbur Schardt from the Brewers.

Schardt, last season was the idol of the La Crosse fans, being the leading pitcher in the Minnesota-Wisconsin league.

STEINFELD OUT

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Third Base man Steinfeldt, of the Cubs, will be out of the game for some time. He reported yesterday to President Murphy and said that an X-ray photograph of his shoulder, injured in a collision in an eastern game recently, showed a wide separation of two of the bones of the shoulder. President Murphy started for the east today to consult with Manager Chance on new players reported to him by Scout George Huff.

CUBS GET BEAR CUB

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Spokane fans have shipped a real live bear cub to President Murphy of the Chicago Nationals. They think that it will bring luck, but Manager Chance and his cubs do not take kindly to the beast as a mascot.

ASPIRING PLAYER IS SENT HOME

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 10.—Wearied of dissension of the team, according to word received here, President John I. Taylor of the Boston Americans, has sent Harry Lord, formerly captain of that team, home to Boston to stay there under salary until he is traded or sold. Lord was sent home after a bitter denunciation of Manager Donovan, whose job he was credited with having intrigued to secure. Lord forced a statement from both Taylor and Donovan that he had done nothing of the sort but the battle convinced Taylor that his usefulness to the Red Sox had ended.

WHITE SOX OUT- LUCK BOSTON, 7-4

Lucky Placing of Hits Wins for the Chicago Team; White Allows Fourteen Hits

CUBS AND PIRATES DIVIDE

Pittsburg Takes the First 3 to 1, and Chicago Cops the Joke Game. 14 to 1

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The White Sox although outlived, outlucked Boston and won, 7 to 4. Boston made 14 hits off White, but the good throwing of Melton and the luckier placing of hits won for Chicago. A grand catch by Dougherty who pulled down a home run drive against the left field bleachers and a cleverly executed double play by Zeider saved White. Walsh came to the rescue after Boston had made four hits in the eighth and stopped the Red Sox. Score: R H E Chicago . . . 02002120x—7 10 2 Boston . . . 003000010—4 14 3 Batteries: White and Payne; Collins and Carrigan.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Philadelphia, 3-1; Chicago, 1-14. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 10.—The Cubs and Pirates split even in a double header, the latter winning the first 3 to 1, and the Cubs the second 14 to 1. In the first the Cubs took the lead in the second inning and lost it in the eighth when Dopin knocked the ball out of Archer's hand at the plate. Dopin's double and a lucky single by Moore in the seventh clinched the pastime for the locals.

The second was a joke. Four Philadelphia pitchers yielded 14 hits and 9 passes. While Cole was touched up 12 times, he seemed to bear a charmed life. Score: R H E Philadelphia . . . 00000111x—3 9 0 Chicago . . . 010000000—1 8 2 Batteries: Moore and Doolin; Brown and Archer and Kling. Second game: R H E Philadelphia . . . 000001000—1 12 2 Chicago . . . 00435001—14 14 0 Batteries: Stack and Shettler; Slaughter and Moran; Cole and Kling.

GROGAN JUMPS ROCHESTER CLUB

John Grogan has jumped his contract with the Rochester ball club and has gone to Huron, S. D., where he will play with the Huron team for the rest of the season. Grogan says he was out of sympathy with the management and deemed it best for the team and himself that he depart. At the close of the ball season he plans to enter Rush Medical college in Chicago.

JOE GANS, FORMER CHAMPION, IS DEAD

Famous Little Colored Man
Loses Last Great Battle
of His Long and Successful Career

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 10.—Joe Gans, formerly lightweight champion pugilist of the world died at the home of his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gamp, at 8:03 this morning following a brave battle of months against tuberculosis. Gans' end was peaceful. At the death bed were his loyal wife, Martha J. Gans, former colored school teacher, whose untiring attention to her stricken husband has won the admiration of all; Gans' foster mother, "Kid" North, an old time pugilist who accompanied Gans on his homeward journey from Prescott, Ariz., the nurse, Miss Tallman, and Colonel "Dan" Pendleton, a lifelong friend of the little fighter. Gans' last public appearance was on the stage of the Gaiety Theater during the last theatrical engagement of "Battling" Nelson, his conqueror. Joe did not take any part in the show merely making a short address in which he told of Nelson's prowess. Gans was given a great ovation.

Estate Problematic
The parting of Gans and Nelson, as the former left the stage, was most pathetic. The following day Gans left for Arizona to begin training for his last battle—that with death. The grim reaper won out. Gans "come back" last Friday was a come back to die.

Although Gans was reputed to have made more than $300,000 during his long career in the ring just what amount of this he left of this world's goods is problematical. Joe was a liberal spender and at times was reported to have been a heavy loser at the race track. He was also a cheerful giver as many of his friends can attest. The Goldfield Hotel, which Gans operated in his palmy days did not in the beginning prove a gold mine, but still it was said to have been a paying investment. Gans' long illness and his enforced absence from the fight game, however, drew heavily on his funds.

Some of his friends place the value of Gans' estate near the $10,000 figure. It is also reported that he carried very little life insurance.

A Picturesque Character
In the death of Joe Gans, the prize ring loses one of its most picturesque characters and as game a lightweight as ever donned a glove. His real name was Gamp. He was born in Baltimore in 1874, the son of a poverty stricken and illiterate negro family. When a mere pickanninny, Gans went to work as a delivery boy in the old Baltimore fish market. These facts are taken from Gans' own story of his life:

"Once the boss and his brother and I each put in $1.70 and we bought a set of $5 boxing gloves. I got too good for the other boys, so they made me box them two at a time. My first fight was to a finish with another 'kid.' My boxing with two boys at once had taught me how to block and dodge and lead, so I won my first real fight, which was for a $2 side bet and a collection of $5.40. It looked like a lot of money to me and I just had to win. I took the money home to my mother.

"My next fight was 23 rounds and the purse was $8.

"Then I began picking up little fights, meeting the boxers and wrestlers who traveled around giving exhibitions and earning a few dollars here and there. I took it all home to my mother. It worried her. She asked me where I got it and I told her I won it shooting craps. But she thought I was stealing it, so I had to take my uncle one night to see me fight. Then my mother tried to make me stop, but I liked the game too much. In those days I did not have much of a punch, but I was awfully fast and I could jab with my left hand in great shape. I did not know I had a right hand."

His Start as a Professional

One of Gans' early fights was with the "Kentucky Rosebud," who had just knocked out George Dixon. Gans beat him in six rounds. Then began his professional ring career, which took him to the top.

Gans' first chance for the championship came in his fight with Franke Erne in New York on March 23, 1900. Erne won in the twelfth round. Gans claimed that he had been blinded when Erne "batted" him. He was unable to get another fight with the champion until May 12, 1902, when they met at Fort Erie, Canada. Gans won in one minute and forty seconds.

Gans had things all his own way as the lightweight champion until July 4, 1903. His first fight with Nelson had taken place in September, 1906, at Goldfield, Nev. Nelson got $22,500 for the fight, win, lose or draw, while Gans got but $11,000, though the house drew $67,715, up to that time the largest gate receipts taken in a ring contest. Not only did Gans agree to give Nelson the larger part of the purse, but Nelson forced Gans to weigh in twice.

Gans won in the 42nd round in one of the most gruelling fights ever seen in the American prize ring. After that fight he defeated Kid Hermann, Jimmy Britt, George Memsic, Spike Sullivan and Rudy Upholz.

Return Match Fatal

"It was my fatal move," said Gans. "Nelson proved too strong for me, making me take the count in the seventeenth round. On September 8, 1908, we clashed for a third time and I made a valiant struggle to wrest back the title I had held so long.

"The Battler wore me down again and I was counted out in the 22nd round. My last battle was with Jabez White, the English champion. I know I made a miserable showing, but I was far from being myself. Had I been the Gans of old the Englishman would never have stayed ten rounds.

"When Ad Wolgast beat Battling Nelson for the title, I thought I could defeat the new champion, but though I posted a forfeit of $1,000, it remained uncovered. At that time my health was pretty good but when I went to New York to take down the money I contracted a severe cold, which finally put me out of the game for good."

Gans returned to his Baltimore hotel but consumption had the best of him and he was sent to Arizona in the hope that he might recover. He was too far gone.

HUNTER SUSPENDED; STRUCK UMP'S BUSH

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—President Chivington of the American association announced today in addition to suspending Player Hunter of the Kansas City club for striking Umpire Bush during a game in Kansas City on August 5, he will also assess a $50 fine. Hunter was suspended for three days.

Umpire Bush has been reinstated

and assigned to duty in Milwaukee.

Umpire Bush will be remembered by many local fans as one of the arbiters in President Moll's Wisconsin-Illinois league when the "Pinks" had a franchise in that organization.
